Welfare reform sparks debate

By STEPHANIE GRIFFITHS

The Center for Public and Private Education sponsored a forum on welfare reform on March 15 at 7 p.m. at Vezey Hall, with the focus on the culture of the poor and the possible controversies in welfare reform.

The forum included a speech by JENNIFER GRIFFITHS, national co-chair of the College Republicans Coalition.

GRIFFITHS' speech was followed by a question-and-answer session with students.

"From the very beginning, the essence of welfare reform has been to encourage work," GRIFFITHS said. "The status of the poor in society has been that of the disabled." She spoke on the necessity of working and the consequences of not working. She also highlighted the difficulty of the poor finding jobs and the need for welfare reform.

"Welfare reform is a very important topic," said JENNIFER GRIFFITHS. "It is important for society to work on this issue and to find solutions to help the poor." She also discussed the importance of work and the need for welfare reform to help the poor find jobs.

The forum was held in the Student Center and was attended by a large number of students.

Alcoholism on campus is public enemy No. 1

The Student Government Association will officially pass the torch on April 27 to the newly elected Leaders. There are a number of issues on this campus which demand immediate attention; however, the primary organizational issue is that the alcohol problem must be the focus of the Student Government Association. The SGA will unaccomplished search for ways to combat the widespread vandalism and violence plaguing this campus. In the past, student representatives have attempted to deal with these issues on an individual basis. But the abuse of alcohol generally acts as a catalyst for vandalism and violence. Therefore, we believe it is imperative for the SGA to address this problem immediately.

Unfortunately, this is not a problem with one easily identifiable source. Moreover, it is a problem that makes it difficult to organize and operate, undergraduate participation in events such as Homecoming. As such, the SGA may decide to take action to combat the problem of alcoholism on this campus.

As the leaders of the Student body, the SGA needs to mobilize every student organization to promote safe, non-alcoholic events for students to attend. We are not suggesting the return of prohibition, but we believe it is necessary to remind students that the binge-drinking occurring nightly can and must be prevented.

Issues come and go at the University. As other problems appear, we must not allow our efforts to combat alcohol abuse to fall by the wayside. The Student Government Association must take steps to address this issue with the same determination and resolve with which they opposed the student abuse issue. The SGA needs to lay the groundwork for the new student leaders to be more effective in the future.

Gramm vs. Clinton battle on horizon in 1996

by Joe Patterson

California and New York recent history teaches that presidential contenders must read every November 3. This year, the contenders are both Democrats—something that may not be a coincidence. The 1996 Democratic candidates have two choices. They must either be able to prove themselves as a cohesive force or they must be able to prove themselves as an independent force. The choice is between a cohesive force and an independent force.

The candidates must prove themselves as a cohesive force. Their campaign must be able to prove themselves as a cohesive force. Their campaign must be able to prove themselves as a cohesive force. Candide provides more than just a laugh

By TARA ALLERTON

Villanova Theater with the permission of the Authors Guild is presenting "Candide," a performance that goes beyond the play of the same name written by Voltaire in 1760. This version, created by Tracy Grimes, offers a vibrant musical performance.

The story follows Candide, a naive young man who believes in the doctrine of the prince his father employed. When he is sent into exile, Candide embarks on a journey of discovery, encountering various misfortunes and finding love along the way. The production is a perfect blend of music, dance, and comedy.

Candide is entertaining and uplifting with outstanding performances by the entire cast.

Hatfield expands with Only Everything

By CARA BECKERICH

Recently, John Hatfield, an accomplished percussionist, has expanded his work with the band Only Everything. Hatfield's innovative approach to rhythm has brought new life to the genre.

Hatfield's percussion work is a mainstay in Only Everything's live performance. On the track "What It Takes," Hatfield's unique style shines through.

"What It Takes" features Hatfield's intricate drumming, providing a rhythmic backdrop for the band's other members. Hatfield's percussive skills are showcased throughout the track, creating a dynamic and engaging listen.

Karlzen sparkles as a musical firecracker, shining bright and captivating audiences with her talent.

Oscars offer no surprises

By KAREN COGLIARTI

Yes, just when you thought last year's Academy Awards couldn't get any worse.

This year, the Oscars are as dull as ever. Many expected a more exciting and diverse ceremony, but the results fell flat.

The biggest shock was the complete absence of diversity in the main categories. The Academy's voting body, predominantly white and male, once again failed to recognize the work of people of color and women.

However, one highlight of the night was the performance by the late Kobe Bryant. His posthumous Best Animated Feature award for "The Last Dance" was a fitting tribute to his legacy.

Overall, the Oscars failed to deliver the excitement and innovation that many had hoped for.
Muses’ end musical drought on University

By TOM JOYCE

The latest news on University Muses is that they’ve broken a long silence with a new album, "University," which has been well-received by fans and critics alike. The band, led by guitarist and singer David Georges, has been known for their edgy sound and powerful lyrics, and "University" continues this tradition. The album has been described as a mix of punk, grunge, and alternative rock, with a strong influence from the mid-80s. The Muses are worth more than a few listenings.

Though they have been kicking around since the mid '80s, the Muses have not released an album in several years. Their last album, "Counting Backwards," was released in 1992. After the band's breakup in 1993, David Georges focused on his solo projects, while the other members pursued various side projects. It was only recently that they decided to get back together and record an album.

The album opens with "Beginnings," a powerful track that sets the tone for the rest of the album. The next song, "Real World," is a more upbeat track that features a strong guitar riff and catchy vocals. "Sugar" is a slower, more introspective song that highlights David Georges' powerful voice. The album ends with "Pastime," a track that features a driving bass line and a driving drum beat.

The Muses are a band that has always been true to their roots. They have never been afraid to experiment with different sounds and styles, and "University" is no exception. The album is a mix of punk, grunge, and alternative rock, with a strong influence from the mid-80s. The Muses are worth more than a few listenings, and "University" is a perfect example of why they are a band to be reckoned with.

Horoscopes

By TARRY, HAPPy, CUTIE and BINGY

Aquarius: Avoid stepping into that sticky white stuff on the way home this week. A spotty rain is coming through, and you might end up in a puddle. Keep an umbrella handy.

Taurus: Your creativity is on the rise, and you'll find yourself writing a beautiful poem or painting a stunning picture.

Gemini: You'll have a lot of company this weekend, so make sure to plan ahead. A dinner party or a night out with friends could be on the horizon.

Cancer: Make sure to organize your schedule for the week. You have many important events coming up, and you don't want to miss a thing.

Leigh will be busy this week, so make sure to keep an eye on her. She's been known to pull all-nighters and work late into the night.

Sagittarius: You'll have a lot of opportunities to travel this week. Consider taking a trip to a new city or exploring a new country. You'll find yourself inspired by the new experiences.

Capricorn: You'll have a lot of work to do this week, so make sure to prioritize your tasks. You'll find yourself making progress quickly, and you'll feel accomplished.

Men's lacrosse coach Air Force to inspire season

By RICK CURTIN

The men's lacrosse team took a trip this past weekend to the Air Force Academy in Colorado, a trip that could not come at a better time for the Wildcats. The team is in the middle of the most challenging part of the season, and the trip to see what the Air Force team is doing could give the Wildcats some motivation.

The Air Force team is one of the best in the nation, and the Wildcats were able to see firsthand what it takes to be successful at that level of play. They were able to see the way the team practices, the way the coaches teach, and the overall atmosphere of the program.

The Wildcats were impressed with what they saw, and they hope to bring that same level of intensity and determination back to Villanova. They hope to use the trip as a springboard to continue their strong play and make a run for the NCAA tournament.

Intramural Championships

By GREG GREENFIELD

"Wolfman’s" views from the Cheapsheets

Every year, Wildcats pride and glory swell when the annual Intramural Championships are held. Varsity teams face off against each other in a friendly yet competitive environment, with trophies awarded for victory. This year, the Men’s Hockey team emerged as champions, and the Women’s Soccer team took home the gold.

Intramural champions like these are not only a reflection of the talent within the Villanova community but also serve as a testament to the school’s commitment to fostering a strong sense of community and support among its students.

Coach Chris Kerber wins gold medal

By LEONARD A. VELEZ

Coach Chris Kerber of the Villanova Women’s Lacrosse team received a gold medal at the 2023 National Collegiate Women’s Lacrosse Championships held in Philadelphia.

Kerber, who has been the head coach of the Villanova Women’s Lacrosse team since 2011, was selected as the Women’s Lacrosse Coach of the Year by the Women’s Lacrosse Coaches Association.

"Coach Kerber’s hard work and dedication to the sport of lacrosse is truly inspiring," said W LCA President, Dr. Sarah Davis. "It is an honor to recognize his outstanding achievements and contributions to the sport."

Kerber, who has a 90-42 career record at Villanova, is known for his emphasis on developing the character and leadership skills of his players. Under his guidance, the Villanova Women’s Lacrosse team has become one of the top teams in the nation.

Women turn around season

By STEVE BAUG

The Villanova Women’s Tennis team faced a daunting task in the opening round of the NCAA tournament, as they took on top-seeded Miami University. However, the Wildcats were able to put up a strong fight and ultimately pulled off the upset, winning in straight sets.

The victory was a testament to the hard work and dedication of the Villanova team, who were able to overcome the odds and achieve a significant win.

"This was a great win for us," said Coach Kerry Johnson. "Our team fought hard and came together as a group to pull off this upset. We are proud of how far we have come this season and we are excited to see what we can achieve in the future."
Softball continues its winning ways

Villanova's softball team experienced a 1-0 victory over Lehigh in its final regular-season game on April 26. The team improved its season record to 23-17-1, staying in contention for a playoff spot.

"It's been a good combination of experienced players and having freshmen step in," coach Mary Spanski said. "I think we've really improved as the season went on."

The Wildcats finished the season with a 1-0 win over Lehigh in the final game. Senior catcher Jennifer Grimes had a key hit to score the winning run in the eighth inning.

"It was a great series," Grimes said. "We really came together as a team."

Villanova's offense was led by freshman pitcher Jamie McCreary, who allowed just one earned run in 11 innings pitched. Freshman pitcher Meghan Keane also had a strong performance, allowing only one earned run in seven innings pitched.

"We really have a great pitching rotation," Spanski said. "The girls have worked hard to improve their skills."

In addition to the pitching, Villanova's defense was also solid, committing just three errors in the series.

"The girls are really stepping up defensively," Spanski said. "They're making great plays in the field."
